RHODES' SUPER PHOSPHATE OF LIME, B. M. RHODES & CO. Office 82, South st., Bowly's wharf, Baltimore. Packed in Barrels and Bags.

Price 845 per Ton cash in Baltimore.

THE attention of Planters of the Southern States is called to this valuable manure, which has been thoroughly tested for the past six years on every description of crop.

This preparation supplies valuable soluble phosphoric acid, the indispensable nutriment of plants.
For Cotton, Tobacco, and Corn culture, this manure has no equal. Col. Sumner, of Pomaria, South Carolina, in a letter published in the "South Carolinian" of November 11th, 1858, making reference to large experiments with Rhodes Super Phosphate, says: "On cotton I applied it with an eye to its relative cost with Pernvian Guano. The drought so cut off this crop that it has not had a fair chance. The cotton to which Rhodes' Super Phosphate was applied remained green, and is now greener than that manured with Guano. It bid fair, previous to the drought, to make a superb crop. It is superior for cotton to the best compost manure, as it does not cause it to drop its forms so, much as the compost does. I find that on cow-penned lands, and suffered most. I have remarked, that not a single stalk was rusted in the field to which the Super Phosphate was applied. This is worthy of note, and, if it is a preventive, will enhance its value." Goggin, of Bedford county, Virginia, in his address before the Lynchburg Ag-ricultural Society, endorsed this manure, and remarked "that it seemed to him that to secure a very large demand for this preparation was but for it to be known." Rhodes's Super Phosphate has received commendations from the press over the United States, Eng-land, and the Island of Cuba, where the Marquis Concha, Captain-General of Cuba, directed last planting season to experiment on Cotton—a crop which the Cubans are anxious of introducing into the Island. Three contiguous lots, of equal size, quality of soil, and exposition, were respectively manured, each with a different fertilizer, viz: Peruvian, and South Keys Cuban Guano, and Rhodes's Super Phosphate. The result proved so marked in favor of the latter that his Excellency sent an official relation of it to Spain. Their experiments on Tobacco were equally satisfactory.

The South Carolina Agricultural Society, at their annual Fair, held at Columbia 9th, 10th, 11th, and 12th November, 1858, through their Committee on Chemicals, Minerals, &c., reported:

"The committee would call the attention of the society to Rhodes' Super Phosphate of Lime. Experience has proved it to be a valuable fertilizer-

MISCELLANEOUS READING. Delt sion .- We regret to hear that a gentleman of this city, of distinguished literary and scientific attainments, one who bears a venerated name, and whose genius and science have given an important improvement to the cities of the United States, has been so far bewildered in the mazes of spiritualism, as to believe that he is wrongly mated with an amiable and devoted wife, and has found his spiritual affinity with another young lady .-As we have been informed, the wife, though heart-broken by the development, and having one child, has assented to the request of her husband for a separation, and he has gone to Indiana to procure a divorce in order that he may marry his new affinity, who we believe, is like his wife, a lady of intelligence, amiability, and irreproachable in character. - Boston Traveller, 29th ult.

A HUMAN LOCOMOTIVE .- M. Duruy, in The Reveue del' Instruction Publique, publishes an account of a human locomotive which is that manured with compost manures, the crop has called a baratrope, a carriage moved by the feet of those riding in it, acting as treadles. The motion is said not to be difficult; it is similar to that of walking. Two men with it made 5 miles in 25 minutes on the Boulevard Mazar at noon, when the street was not made 13 miles in 96 minutes; and the exercise being so easy that they offered to keep it up alternate hours day after day, and thought they could without difficulty average 50 to 60 miles per day. A singular thing it is, that it beats the best turn outs on steep grades if they present a compact or paved surface.

HUMAN HAIR .- The London market alone contains five tons of human hair. Blonde hair is the most demanded. Most of this comes from Germany, where it is gathered by a Dutch Company. Fifteen years ago this was in the greatest demand, and brought two dollars an ounce. Black hair is now preferred. It comes from France, principaly from Brittany and the southern departments. The French hair harvest amounts to nearly 100 tons a year-the price varying from twenty cents to a dollar per head, according to weight and quality. The hair merchants attend fairs with a pack of ribbons, pins, and such small articles, which they exchange for hair.

Beecher defends the system of renting pews-some cavilling having been excited by the large sums paid for pews in his church, the effect of which is to exclude the poor from attendance. He contends that the secular business of the church is purely a commercial matter, and that no system of disposing of the pews can be adopted except at public auction. If the rich thereby have the best chance, he says they need more preaching to than the poor, according to the scriptural passage "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle," &c.
